FIRST TIME IN BELGIUM – BEMER RIDERS TOUR

The benefits.*

- ~ Improvement of the microcirculation and therefore of the cell metabolism
- ~ Scientific proof of the effect of the BEMER Horse-Set on the horse
- ~ Promotes the parasympathetic processes in the organism and thus regeneration and relaxation
- ~ Improves suppleness for optimal training
- ~ Increases performance
- ~ Prevention and increase of infection resistance
- ~ Improved wound healing process
- ~ Increased microcirculation during operations: Reduction of anaesthetic and medication administration, as well as improvement of muscle circulation resulting in a lower risk of myositis (inflammation of the skeletal muscles).

Everyone is looking forward to it: the riders, the organisers and the promoters – for the first time, the international show jumping series, founded in 2001 by Paul Schockemöhle and Ullrich Kasselmann, will be visiting Belgium. The CSI Lier of Azelhof Horse Events is one of the top venues for equestrian sport with perfect conditions and commitment for horses and riders. From 1 to 4 September, one of the stages of the BEMER Riders Tour will be decided in Lier. „It's nice," said Mike Hazelbroek, CSI Lier event director, „and it's a real win-win-situation for us and the BEMER Riders Tour as well. We are expecting more German combinations and other riders, who are not familiar with Azelhof horse events."

After all, there is also a protagonist from the host country: Dominique Hendrickx sensationally jumped into second place behind Henrik von Eckermann (SWE), the current double World Champion, in the sixth and final competition of the 2021 season at Hof Kasselmann in April 2022 with Coriano van Klapscheut. The astute Belgian secured third place overall in the BEMER RIDERS Tour at the last second. His reward: a brand new Land Rover.

The CSI3* Lier is now the sixth in a series of eight stages of the BEMER Riders Tour and follows directly on from the „Turnier der Sieger", CSI4* Münster. The 24-year-old Sophie Hinners (GER), winner of the fourth leg was able to keep her lead, but Janne Friederike Meyer-Zimmermann (GER) celebrated a great victory in Münster ahead of European Champion André Thieme (GER). Now she is second in the ranking. „I'm coming to Lier," Meyer-Zimmermann cheerfully announced, adding that she was looking forward to the CSI Azelhof.

On Friday, the run for points begins with the qualifier in an international jumping competition with jump-off. On Sunday, the best 50 pairs from this qualification will compete in the Grand Prix. This is an international jumping competition with two rounds. Only then do we know who will „haul away" the most points from Lier. Let's go!

ABOUT THE COURAGE TO MAKE A SERIES

David Will with Primus vom Neumühler Hof in München at Pferd International | Foto: F. Heinen

In the spring of 2001 the announcement was made: After months of planning and discussion, many talks with organisers, the German national federation FN and the international federation FEI, the Riders Tour was set. Since that moment, the series has been running continuously, making headlines and boosting careers. Paul Schockemöhle came up with the idea and strong partners, first and foremost his long-time friend and business partner Ullrich Kasselmann. Together they initiated and accompanied all developments and always found partners and sponsors who brought their own input and expectations. For the past few years, title sponsor BEMER Int. AG has added new creativity.

periencing its 21st season because the initiators always believed that an exciting series would do the sport good – and they were proven right. While in the first years of the series names like Ludger Beerbaum, Meredith Michaels-Berbaum or Luciana Diniz made their mark on the Riders Tour, they were followed a little later by Carsten-Otto Nagel and Janne Friederike Meyer or most recently Nisse Lüneburg. And it was not only the overall winners who made headlines. Names like Katrin Eckermann, David Will or Patrick Stühlmeyer came into focus. The Tour does not unfold its effect through spectacular individual successes, but through consistently good performances over longer periods.

focus of the BEMER Riders Tour is always and first and foremost on the sport. Title partner BEMER Int. AG has never expressed the slightest doubt about this principle. On the contrary: this partnership is on an equal footing - the Riders Tour initiators and participants with their sporting expertise, the title sponsor with its product expertise.

Partnership: Win-win is Best

BEMER Int. AG obtains experience and valuable knowledge for its BEMER Horse Set and also for the BEMER Human Set from its involvement in sport. Workshops, meetings, countless discussions and on-site exchanges with spectators and athletes have had a significant influence on the development of the sets. BEMER is a specialist in

Today, the BEMER Riders Tour is ex-

In one aspect, everyone agrees: the physical vascular therapy. Studies and tests on a scientifically oriented basis are one building block for the review and development of the product, the individual experiences and feedback of users are another.

„From the very beginning, the commitment was not designed as a one-time thing, but as a long-term partnership,” Bernhard Bock, Head of Marketing at BEMER Int. AG, never tires of emphasising. Only this long-term partnership has made the sum of experience possible.

And this has an effect on the sport. The importance of oxygen supply in the bloodstream can easily be learned in biology lessons. But how important even the tiniest blood vessels are, is something that most equestrian enthusiasts have probably only understood since the beginning of the „BEMER era in the Riders Tour“. The triumphant advance of the „BEMER rug“ is clearly visible - at every show you can find numerous horses relaxing under the horse-set.

Significance for the Sport: New Paths, Attractive Venues

Paul Schockemöhle’s idea of a series, an arc of suspense over several stages and months, has always been and still is relevant to the sport, because: „Without competitive sport, the horse world stagnates. Buying and selling horses, breeding, training and even riding clubs and riding schools are all connected.“

Business partners and friends: Ullrich Kasselmann and Paul Schockemöhle | Foto: S. Fuchs

The past years have certainly made the connections clear. It was therefore all the more important that the BEMER Riders Tour was launched in 2021, even though not every single stage had been planned down to the last detail and the implementation was absolutely certain.

You have to react to challenges and that is exactly what the „makers of possibility“ have done and are doing again: a „breath of fresh air“ is blowing through the BEMER Riders Tour 2022 with new stages in Europe.

In addition to Germany, the BEMER Riders Tour will also stop in the Netherlands, Belgium and Austria in the 2022 season, thus breaking new ground. The series started in Hagen a.T.W. at Horses & Dreams meets Canada, followed by the 2nd stage at the Pferd International Munich and then this weekend it goes to Ommen in the Netherlands and then on to the Fest der Pferde in Donaueschingen-Immenhöfe. The 5th leg leads to the Turnier der Sieger in Münster, which is back in the sporting calendar after a Corona break. Lier, Belgium, will host the sixth leg, followed by Wiener Neustadt and the final leg in Neumünster at the VR CLASSICS.

In addition, there is to be an expansion with the BEMER Young Riders Tour that is aimed at the U21 age group and should bring many new faces to the 2023 Tour season. Young riders who compete successfully this year will be able to give the „sporting establishment“ a run for their money in the BEMER Riders Tour 2023. What does that mean? The future has already begun...

THE IDEA OF THE BEMER RIDERS TOUR

The hero of the BEMER Riders Tour 2021/22 was Patrick Stülmeyer. The 31-year-old show jumper, who was born in Osnabrück, made the previous season „his“. Over five events, „Stühli“ collected points and kept his cool and his nerves. Consistency - that is the rule - is the most important quality in the BEMER Riders Tour.

This once again underlined the essential concept of tour initiator Paul Schockemöhle. Two ideas motivated Schockemöhle and his congenial partner Ullrich Kassermann when they invented the Riders Tour more than 20 years ago: To develop an element of excitement and bring new attention to the sport of show jumping. And to reward the „most competent“ riders of the season. It is precisely this quality, continuity and focus that distinguishes the truly great riders.

WORKS: THE RULES OF THE BEMER RIDERS TOUR

What works well in practice, is here to stay. This is also the principle behind the rules of the BEMER Riders Tour. Whoever wins a special stage earns 20 points, whoever comes second 17 points, etc. up to 1 point for 15th place. Collecting the most points is what it's all about. At the end, the four best results of each participant are taken into account. Whoever has the most points is „Rider of the Year“.

Who is eligible to compete in the BEMER Riders Tour?

The three best riders of the previous year can compete at the first tour stop, then always the top three of the current ranking. In addition, the top 25 riders of the current World Ranking List Jumping are pre-qualified for the competition. Then there are riders who have been invited or nominated by their federations for the BEMER Riders Tour events.

The BEMER Riders Tour Competitions

At each stage, a qualification will be ridden before the ranking competition. The 50 best pairs of this qualification, including the pre-qualified riders, will then compete in the special stage and only there will the ranking points be awarded. While the qualification test is an international jumping competition with a jump-off, the special stage is an international jumping competition with two rounds. In any case, all clear rounds of the first round, but at least the best quarter of the first round, will go into the second round. The rule for the second round is: Everyone starts from zero again.

Tried and tested rules

These regulations have been a pillar of the sporting appeal of the BEMER Riders Tour for more than 20 years. Familiar regulations are used for this purpose. If, for example, two riders are both ranked 50th in the qualification, then both are allowed to start in the competition. If there is actually a tie for first or second place in the overall ranking after the final leg, then the higher number of first, second, third etc. places will decide on the overall ranking. This tried and tested mode will also apply in the 21st season of the BEMER Riders Tour.

BEMER Riders Tour points system

1. place	20 points
2. place	17 points
3. place	15 points
4. place	13 points
5. place	11 points
6. place	10 points
7. place	9 points
8. place	8 points
9. place	7 points
10. place	6 points
11. place	5 points
12. place	4 points
13. place	3 points
14. place	2 points
15. place	1 points

If more than one rider occupies the same place, they will receive the same number of points, e.g. two riders in 3rd place: 15 points each. The next placed rider would then be 5th and get 11th points.

Overall winner of the BEMER Riders Tour: „Rider of the Year“

Only the rider's four best results are counted towards the final classification. The top three riders in the final ranking each receive a LAND ROVER car.

In order for a rider to be considered for the final classification, a start at the final stage, the „VR CLASSICS“ Neumünster 2023, is mandatory.

The rider who has collected the most points in the BEMER Riders Tour is „Rider of the Year“. In the event of a points tie, the most victories or second places, etc. will decide. Should there still be a tie in points, the better result in the ranking test of the final stage will be the deciding factor.

PATRICK STÜHLMAYER IS RIDER OF THE YEAR 2021/2022

He has already ridden Nations Cups and won Grand Prix, but „I would call this the biggest success of my career,“ says Patrick Stühlmeier. Almost exactly 365 days after he collected his first points in the BEMER Riders Tour at Horses & Dreams, the 31-year-old show jumper from Steinfeld/Mühlen finished the series as the overall winner for the first time and was celebrated extensively with a champagne shower.

Thanks to the boss

„I scored points with four different horses over the course of the series and all of them belong to my boss, Paul Schockemöhle. I just want to say thank you for providing me with such good mounts,“ remarked Stühlmeier, who grew up in the Osnabrück region, with a smile. The boss is also the initiator and partner of the Riders Tour, which celebrated its 20th final since 2021. His reward: a brand new Land Rover for the overall winner of the BEMER Riders Tour. Runners-up Dominique Hendrickx and Angelique Rügen were also very excited as they drove around the stadium in Hagen in their new vehicles of the luxury brand.

DEJÀ-VU – JANNE FRIEDERIKE MEYER-ZIMMERMANN WINS IN MÜNSTER

(Münster) "Actually, he is quite the stage hog," Janne Friederike Meyer-Zimmermann revealed with a laugh, "and I think he really enjoyed that today." He, that is the 13-year-old grey Büttner's Minimax – Meyer-Zimmermann's mount for the fifth competition of the BEMER Riders Tour. The combination from Pinneberg won the Grand Prix of the Auto Nagel Group. An extremely fast and clear 36.88 seconds was enough to secure this coup and relegate European Champion André Thieme (Plau a.S.) and his Conacco to second place.

Münster's "Turnier der Sieger" holds only positive memories for the 2010 World Team Champion: "I won German Championships here, the Grand Prix and my first car," the show jumper recalled and took the opportunity to thank Hendrik Snoek for the "very special event". Hendrik Snoek himself was happy: "I am very satisfied. There are a few adjustments here and there, where you can improve something, but that's good – you also always have to develop." Victory is also a déjà vu for Meyer-Zimmermann with regard to the BEMER Riders Tour, as she won the very first leg of the 2022 season at Horses & Dreams meets Canada in Hagen a.T.W..

From Münster to Lier

As a result, the 41-year-old jumped into second place in the current ranking of the BEMER Riders Tour and will be able to further extend her "account" in just a few days. "I will be in Lier," said Janne Friederike Meyer-Zimmermann and that is where the sixth leg of the international BEMER Riders Tour will take place for the first time with the CSI3* Azelhof from 1 - 4 September 2022.

Sophie Hinnners defends pole position

Sophie Hinnners, the 24-year-old leader of the BEMER Riders Tour from Marburg, was close to winning with the 12-year-old Selle Francais mare Anaba Haize with a time of 35.69 seconds, but conceded a fault at the last jump, an oxer, and finished sixth. This earned her ten points, so that the rider from Marburg was able to keep her top position in the ranking.

For the 16th time, the BEMER Riders Tour was part of the "Turnier der Sieger" in Münster. "We are delighted to be part of it," said Dorothee Hahn on behalf of the BEMER Riders Tour, "Münster is certainly one of the events in the series that represents a kind of 'shining light' among the stages."

NEXT TO COME: CSI ARENA NOVA, AUSTRIA

Waltzes by Strauss, hearty quark pancakes, the Hofburg or Sacher gateau – there are many things that have made Austria world-famous, including its horses. And not only those of the Hofreitschule. The seventh and penultimate stage of the BEMER Riders Tour leads to the Arena Nova in Wien-ner Neustadt. The modern exhibition centre combines the horse fair „Apropos Pferd“ with international show jumping and will host the BEMER Riders Tour for the first time from 6 - 9 October.

Participants from around 15 nations are regularly expected in the indoor arena of Arena Nova. For the first time, the Army Riding Club of the Theresian Military Academy Wiener Neustadt with event leader Lieutenant Colonel Roland Pulsinger is responsible for the organisation. There is a lot of excitement and anticipation in the air already.

TITLE SPONSOR BEMER INT. AG

In 2016, the BEMER Int. AG was the main sponsor of the Riders Tour for the first time. Three years later, in 2019 they became the title sponsor and continued until today.

The company specialises in physical vascular therapy. Improving microcirculation in tiny blood vessels - that is the company's core competence. And what has already been successfully applied in human medicine has also become a success in the veterinary field. With the BEMER Horse Set, BEMER Int. AG offers an effective therapy for improving microcirculation - with many positive effects on the horse. In cooperation with the greats of equestrian sport, it has been constantly further developed and contains numerous new features and clever details.

A rider can only be truly successful on a horse that is happy, healthy, recovered and relaxed. The BEMER Horse Set can make a valuable contribution to this. It improves microcirculation, i.e. the circulation of the smallest blood vessels, promotes metabolism and cell activity and thus recovery and convalescence processes.

Scientific studies also show an optimisation of suppleness and regeneration. In close cooperation with equestrian sports authorities, equine physicians and amateur athletes, BEMER has continuously developed the Horse Set further - among others with the Department of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Milan, the HCCG, Dr. med. vet. Hermann Josef Genn, Hof Kasselmann or Paul Schockemöhle Marketing. Countless findings from their work flowed and flow into the development of the set. The result: The best BEMER Horse Set ever.
